

grandparents' day

Grandparents' Day feels quite different this year;
With just 3 of the 4 of my grandparents here.

Don't be mistaken - I'm bursting with pride;
I just feel something missing, that's you by my side.

A lot has happened in a year, you see;
The Lions won the flag... and there's ChatGPT!

So many things that I want you to know,
How I wish you could see me continue to grow.

I know I'm not alone at IEPS,
Missing somebody special I'd like to impress.

So on behalf of the kids - maybe some teachers too,
I'm sending a message - it's the least I could do.

I'll go and have fun and laugh and play,
I just wish you were here on Grandparents' Day.
